

Member Profile: A Room For Change

Are you looking for a change in your home or office? Look no further than co-founder of Let's Do Lunch; Sue Pitchforth. Sue is owner of Room for Change a friendly, professional decor and homestaging company that provides you inspiration for all your decorating needs, from color consultation, furniture placement, personal shopping and seminars/workshops. "We cover all aspects of your decor, making your home the special place it could be without breaking the bank." explains Sue.

Room for Change also offers numerous tailor made "Decor Seminars" to groups of all sizes on many exciting and interesting decor topics. Sue is proud to be a member of the Continuing Education faculty at Durham College teaching Lunch & Learn Workshops on: Decorating, Gardening and Staging Your Home. She is a frequent guest on Rogers TV and contributes Decor advice for various Durham Based Magazines. A participant in the special Let's Do Lunch member Super Saver Program by offering her in home decorating sessions for members with a complimentary 1/2 hour additional session when a one hour session is booked. Each year the Room for Change team collaborates on a "Decorating Makeover" of a Charity based in our Region—some examples include—Luke's Place, Charles H Best Centre, YWCA—Adelaide House & Adelaide's Attic.

In addition to the commitments Sue provides to the community from Room For Change, she is also President of Group 74; a local women's service club based out of Brooklin who host annual events such as the Victorian Tea, Harvest Festival and Brunch with Santa to bring the community together. Through a mandate of "For a Better Community" Group 74 also raises funds for local charities. Sue is also a charter member of the Brooklin Ashburn Lions Club and a mentor to youth in our community.

Sue and Debbie created Let's Do Lunch to bring together the wonderfully dynamic and energetic business owners that we have in Durham Region "We host our luncheons with a fun, professional yet positive approach where each luncheon is pleased to have a charity of choice selected. "I am proud to have Room for Change as a long time member of "Let's Do Lunch" says Sue. "I also am very pleased with the outstanding connections that I have made through this group, in turn using many of our members as part of my team."
